Botox-like effect – CellActive CellCollagen Face and Neck.

As a leader in the field of Swiss cellular and phyto cosmeceuticals, Cellap Laboratoire is launching its latest innovation in anti-ageing, rejuvenating skincare treatments. Inspired by more than 25 years of research, Cellap Laboratoire's team of scientists and researchers have developed CellActive CellCollagen Face and Neck Mask. This new-generation skincare product utilises the latest discoveries in the battle against signs of ageing and combines Swiss cellular biotechnology with the ultra pure collagen incorporated in the sheet masks. This treatment, packed full of high-performance active ingredients, is designed to maintain the skin's fresh, youthful appearance as well as preventing and correcting any visible signs of skin ageing. The extremely fine CellActive CellCollagen Face and Neck collagen sheet masks are delicately infused with a precious cellular serum enriched with marine and plant complexes.

This ultra pure, extremely fine collagen sheet with a velvety soft texture offers unique regenerating properties and forms a three-dimensional network similar to the structure of human skin. Its patented Triple Collagen-Plus production method ensures an intense transfer of hydration into the skin. The unique matrix also acts as a protective barrier allowing optimal absorption and penetration of the active ingredients deep into the epidermis.

Also, having been dermatologically and ophthalmologically tested, this treatment with its "second-skin effect" has been formulated to perfectly mould to the shape of your face and neck while providing maximum comfort for your skin.

This plumping and reshaping Cellular Sheet Mask for instant radiance is recommended for occasional use for women from age 30, and from age 40 as a weekly one-month treatment, then at least once a month thereafter. www.cellap.ch
